Theme : Artificial Intelligence, Data Privacy and Cybersecurity: Constitutional,

Regulatory and Interdisciplinary Legal Perspectives

The rapid expansion of artificial intelligence, digital surveillance, data-driven governance, and cybersecurity frameworks presents unprecedented legal, constitutional, and ethical challenges. This theme seeks to explore how legal systems can respond to emerging technologies while safeguarding constitutional values, fundamental rights, and democratic accountability.

The Journal invites original, unpublished research papers and articles on contemporary legal issues relating to Artificial Intelligence, Data Privacy, and Cybersecurity, with particular emphasis on constitutional, regulatory, and interdisciplinary perspectives. Submissions may address, but are not limited to, the following themes:

➢   Artificial Intelligence and Constitutional Governance
➢   Data Privacy and Data Protection in the Digital Age
➢   Cybersecurity, National Security, and Civil Liberties
➢   Digital Surveillance and Democratic Accountability
➢   Regulation and Governance of Emerging Technologies
➢   Algorithmic Decision-Making, Transparency, and Accountability
➢   Platform Governance and Intermediary Regulation
➢   Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Law, Technology, and Ethics
➢   Comparative and International Approaches to AI and Cyber Regulation
➢   Digital Rights, Access to Justice, and the Rule of Law

Submission Guidelines Visit: https://plchyd.ac.in/publications-Ritha E-Journal.html

Submission Deadlines:

Submission Open from   : 01-03-2026

Last Date of Submission   : 30-07-2026

Intimation of Accepted Articles   : 15-08-2026

Instructions for Authors

1. Submission Categories

The Journal accepts the following types of submissions:

- Articles: 6,000–8,000 words.

- Short Articles : 3000-5000 Words.

2. Originality and Plagiarism

- Submissions must be original and unpublished and should not be under consideration elsewhere.

- All submissions will be screened for plagiarism. Manuscripts exceeding the acceptable similarity will be rejected.

3. Structure of the Article

All submissions must adhere to the following structure to ensure uniformity and facilitate the peer-review process:

- Title
The title should be concise and clearly indicate the central argument or legal issue addressed in the manuscript.

- Abstract
An abstract of 250–300 words outlining the background, research problem, objectives, methodology (where applicable), key arguments, and conclusions of the paper.

- Keywords
Authors must provide 4 to 6 relevant keywords immediately following the abstract.

- Introduction
The introduction should contextualize the research problem, highlight its legal and constitutional significance, state the research questions and objectives, and briefly outline the structure of the article.

- Literature Review / Theoretical Framework (if applicable)
A critical review of existing literature, legal theories, and scholarly debates relevant to the subject matter.

- Research Methodology (if applicable)
A clear description of the research approach adopted, including doctrinal, comparative, empirical, or interdisciplinary methods.

- Analysis and Discussion
The main body of the article, comprising a detailed legal analysis supported by statutes, case law, policy documents, and comparative or international perspectives. This section should be divided into coherent headings and sub-headings.

- Findings / Observations (if applicable)
A concise presentation of key findings emerging from the analysis, particularly in empirical or comparative studies.

- Critical Evaluation
Original analysis and critique of existing legal frameworks, identifying limitations, implications, and emerging challenges.

- Conclusion
A summary of the principal arguments and conclusions, addressing the research questions posed.

- Recommendations / Future Directions (If applicable)
Suggestions for legal reform, policy development, or future research.

- References

All sources must be cited through footnotes only,

4. Formatting Guidelines

- Manuscripts should be submitted in MS Word (.doc/.docx) format.

- Font: Times New Roman, Size 12 (main text), 10 (footnotes).

- Line spacing: 1.5 for text; single-spaced footnotes.

- Margins: 1 inch on all sides.

5. Citation Style

- Submissions must strictly follow the "Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation 21ˢᵗ Edition" citation style.

- Footnotes should be used for citations and endnotes are not permitted.

6. Peer Review Process

- The Journal follows a Blind peer review process.

- Authors must ensure that their manuscript does not contain any identifying information, including name, affiliation, acknowledgments, or self-referencing clues.

- A separate cover page containing the author's name, institutional affiliation, contact details(email id), and a brief bio (100–150 words) must be submitted.

8. Editorial Rights

- The Editorial Board reserves the right to make minor editorial changes for clarity, consistency, and formatting without altering the substance of the submission.

- Substantive changes, if required, will be communicated to the author.

10. Submission Procedure

- Manuscripts must be submitted to rithauniversallaw@gmail.com

For further details please refer to the official website Pendekanti Law College, Hyderabad

----